

Project Creative Brief

This document is designed for the designer and the customer to reach an agreement on the initial details of the project. The goal is to make sure that the customer is well heard and understood. Please make sure that you add all the details that you want to get across, at the same time, please keep your answers brief and coherent.

Once the document is filled, we will make sure that all the answers are well understood. Then we can start the creative process. There will be timelines to go over the process and make adjustments if needed.

The payments will be done in three steps, a third before the process, another third after the sketches are done, and the last third when the final designs are ready.
